Thanks! ... I'm at the Denver airport now with an earlier flight so I can get thru Chicago before their winter storm watch begins at 9pm.

Ok. I will convey that to Ken and he can make the call.

It's OK. What Ken has is OK and it might be good for you to let him know that he can send it to Tom if Tom wants it two working days in advance. Deliberative Process / Ex. 5 I wish we could do less wordsmithing on internal memos, especially when there's so many more important things to watch for.

I'll rewrite Norm's summary, and that can be an extra piece, by Monday.

Thanks again!

I sent the e-mail to Ken yesterday – with the attachments - as I felt “on the hook” for the memo since he contacted me directly.

Thought I cc’ed you.

The bottom line I left Ken with was that I wouldn’t pass the memo and note on just yet (although I did send him the files), since things were evolving and a more coordinated response might be warranted.

Also - the docs I prepared don’t reflect any input from Lynn, though, and she indicated she has come comments.

I said I planned to see what Norm pulled together and wait for input from you.

I asked Ken to let me know if he wanted to do something different. I have not heard back.

He has the memo and the unedited comments.

The issue I caught about the reference has been fixed in these versions.

IF he wanted to, he could have Leslie format the memo, get signatures, and send.

IS THIS OK? OR WOULD YOU LIKE ME TO DO SOMETHING ELSE?

Hi Ken – This e-mail is largely an FYI.  I would not pass on either of the attached files at this time. **
I just wanted to get back you and let you know what I had done in response to your call from last week regarding Glinda’s comments on glyphosate.

Vince was not available late last week, so, per your request, I edited Glinda's comments and prepared a memo on glyphosate (attached).

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

I sent those to Vince, Lynn, and Glinda for review.

Lynn responded to that e-mail with comments and suggestions on the memo, saying she would take a stab at it later – but then we were all out of pocket at the ORD RTP meeting.

Since that time, I have talked to Norm who is now preparing a two-pager on the topic for a Tuesday briefing with Tom, which covers more than just comments from Glinda.

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Along those same lines, I have not yet attempted to incorporate Lynn’s suggestions (she was going to take a stab at it, but she is at an SOT meeting, as well).

Finally, we are also trying to catch up with Vince in Denver to make sure he has a chance to jump in and also review what Norm has drafted.

[What a crazy week (RTP, Denver, SOT – good grief!)]

I just wanted you to know that I did what you asked last week, and that events seemed to have evolved a bit since then.

If there is something else you would like me to do, please let me know.

Otherwise, I plan to see what Norm pulls together and whether Vince has any additional input.

That two-pager needs to get to the IOAA ASAP in advance of the briefing.

Thanks!
